

Nutritional Bio Scan – using Zyto Pro Technology

Millennial Wellness Holistic Healthcare

www.millennialwellness.com 480-296-4699 Gilbert, AZ 85295 mywellnessaz@gmail.com

A Nutritional Bioscan using Zyto Pro technology provides a Holistic look at the body, mind and spirit, evaluating all body functioning, cells, hormones, organs, possible pathogens, emotions, (the whole person) and evaluates its ability to be balanced (homeostasis) at the energetic level - - where health and disease can begin or end.

In the hands of a skilled practitioner; Zyto quantum technology is a powerful tool that can directly access the body's amazing and sophisticated communication and control network. The body is asked questions through frequencies and is able to respond on whether it is stressed or balanced to stimulus, replying in quantum time. Basically, the body and the computer talk through MHz (megahertz). Food, nutrients, herbs, essential oils, thought patterns as well as lifestyle choices and therapies can be tested to see whether they provide a positive or negative choice to bring balance.

The Zyto Pro is not a medical device, but like medical devices it produces information about the client that must be interpreted by a qualified practitioner. In this regard, quantum technology is no different than medical evaluation tools such as an EEG, X-ray machine or even a stethoscope where a trained practitioner who has knowledge and experience to effectively interpret the results is required. An in-depth knowledge of the effects and interactions of minerals, herbs, foods, and all that the earth produces naturally is needed - - in order to find the fewest possible supplements to bring the body into balance.

Jacque Gurney, a Certified Natural Health Professional, Holistic Healthcare Practitioner, Advanced Herbalist, Certified Advanced Aromatherapist Professional, Transformational Health Coach, and founder of Botanical Education Foundation, has 30 years of experience in the herb, nutrition, essential oil, emotional rebalancing and holistic healthcare field. Hundreds of people who have struggled with long-term health conditions have sought her guidance in their decisions to change their lives, using the natural solutions that were found to be balancing for their bodies.

A Nutritional Balance Session is an interactive work session, where Jacque teaches you what is being shown by the Zyto system, and where you have active participation in your choices of the kinds of supplements or therapies that are most available to you and at the best price for your pocketbook.

A Zyto Pro Nutritional BioScan (which contains over 32,000 balancer checks) should not be confused with the Compass bioscan, where only one product line is available for balancing and 76 stressors are checked. The Compass system is usually used as a marketing tool

Your body is talking! It is designed to facilitate inter-cellular communication, keeping all the organs, body systems, and cells working together. Many signals are given to us to warn us and to protect us from the choices that we are making. Invest in yourself today! Take some time to learn what your body is saying!

Your Body is Speaking, are you Listening?